

Use of cookies

In order to ensure full functionality and security of the website of AS Signet Bank (hereinafter – the Bank), as well as to adapt it to your usage habits, we use cookies.

The Bank uses various types of cookies, from which cookies necessary for the operation of the website are placed by default, but we ask for your consent for cookies used for analytical purposes. By giving this consent in the cookie bar displayed during your visit to the website, you can choose whether to use certain types of cookies.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that the web browser stores on the user's computer, mobile phone (or tablet) when you open the website. They identify the browser or the information stored in the browser or the settings that are chosen to view the site (such as language settings) so that they do not have to be re-specified each time. Thus, with the help of cookies, the website acquires the ability to store the user's individual settings, recognize him or her and respond accordingly. The use of cookies can be disabled or limited, but without cookies it will not be possible to fully use all the functions of the website.

Depending on the functions and purpose to be performed, we use the following cookies:

Strictly necessary cookies

Cookies are necessary for you to freely visit and browse the website and use the features it offers. These cookies identify your device, but do not disclose your identity, nor do they collect or collect information. Without these cookies, the website cannot function properly.

Functional cookies

With functional cookies, the website remembers the selected settings and other personalized preferences so that later this website is more convenient to use.

Analytical cookies

Analytical cookies collect information about the use of the website and detect the most frequently visited sections, including the content you choose when browsing the website. The information is used for analytical purposes in aggregate form in order to find out what interests the users of the site, so that the functionality of the page can be improved and made more convenient to use.

Marketing cookies

These cookies are set by other companies whose functionality is used by the website. Cookies are used to identify the content you want and provide the most relevant information about products and services, while in case of refusal, general and non-personalized ads may be offered.
